

ASHLEY HARTMAN

Chief of Staff

Ashley Hartman is UCOR's Chief of Staff, responsible for directing governmental and stakeholder affairs strategy in addition to leading the Communications Team.

Ashley joined UCOR in 2015 as Government & Stakeholder Relations Manager. Her work included activities and strategies to strengthen existing relationships and foster new alliances with government officials and stakeholders at all levels. In September 2016, she assumed the role of External Affairs, Communications & Community Programs Manager—directing internal and external communications as well as the company's community advocacy program.

Prior to joining UCOR, Ashley served as Program Director for the East Tennessee Economic Council (ETEC), where she worked with other organizations, elected officials, and businesses in Knox, Anderson, Roane, and Blount counties to promote the values and impact of ETEC membership through weekly meetings, member orientations, member communication, and community involvement.

She was also a Communications Graduate Assistant at the Y-12 National Security Complex, where she wrote and edited publications and led internal campaigns for the Technology Transfer organization.

Ashley has a bachelor of arts degree in Communications from the University of Tennessee.

Education

Bachelor of Arts

Communications
University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Previous Positions

External Affairs, Communications & Community Programs Manager

UCOR
Oak Ridge, Tennessee

Program Director

East Tennessee Economic Council
Oak Ridge, Tennessee

Communications Graduate Assistant

Y-12 National Security Complex
Oak Ridge, Tennessee