

Save Money on Your Health and Dependent Care Expenses – It's Easy!

UCOR offers you two Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs) to help you set aside money (pre-tax) for eligible health care and dependent care expenses – for you and your eligible IRS dependents. The money is deducted from your paycheck before taxes are taken out, just like your medical premiums (or other pre-tax deductions). You can elect to contribute up to the current IRS limits of $2,750 in the Health Care FSA and up to $5,000 in the Dependent Care FSA for the 2022 plan year.

Action required! For the 2022 plan year, current employees must re-enroll or enroll for the Health Care FSA and/or Dependent Care FSA during 2022 Annual Benefits Enrollment. New hires must enroll when eligible for benefits during the new hire enrollment period to participate in the 2022 FSAs.

You can use an FSA for the following eligible expenses (sample list)

Health Care FSA*

- Any costs above what your health plan pays, including deductibles and copays
- Prescriptions
- Over-the-counter drugs prescribed by your doctor
- Certain non-drug over-the-counter items, such as contact lens cleaner and bandages

Dependent Care FSA

- Licensed nursery school and childcare centers
- Private day care providers and nannies
- Licensed care for disabled dependents
- Care for an elderly parent whom you claim as a dependent on your federal income tax return
- Education expenses for a child not yet in the first grade, such as day care expenses

If you expect to incur expenses like those shown above, you should consider enrolling in an FSA.

Visit www.PayFlexDirect.com to get a full list of eligible expenses for both FSAs.

*If you elect the Consumer Directed Health Plan (CDHP) option for your 2022 medical coverage, you will not be eligible to elect a Health Care FSA.

FSAs reduce your taxable income

Consider how Susan saves. She sets aside $1,500 in an FSA for the year. She incurs $1,500 worth of eligible expenses.

SUSAN SAVES

$330

22% federal income tax

Susan's tax savings mean she pays only $1,170 for $1,500 of expenses.

Susan pays $1,170

Note: Health Care FSA contributions are limited for highly compensated employees (HCE). HCEs are not eligible to participate in the DCFSA. For 2022, the 2021 HCE gross earnings threshold is $130,000. For more information, visit www.PayFlexDirect.com.

Ready to contribute? Key things to know!

If you elect $1,500 for the year, you'll see a deduction of $30 per paycheck.

PARTICIPATING IN AN FSA TAKES A LITTLE PLANNING.

You'll need to think about expenses you may have for either or both accounts when deciding how much to contribute. Plus, the IRS has some rules to keep in mind. Here's some key things to know.

*FSAs have a grace period for your 2022 dollars until March 31, 2023. You have from January 1, 2022 to December 31, 2022 to incur expenses and until March 31, 2023 to submit claims for reimbursement.

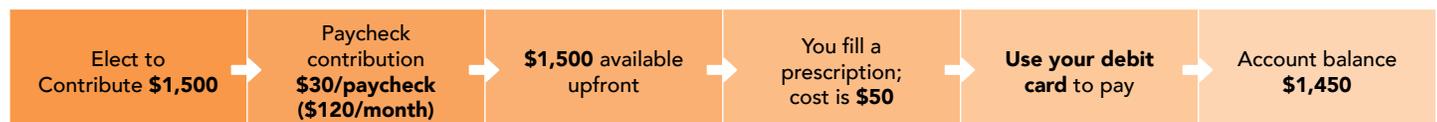

- You don't need to be enrolled in a UCOR medical insurance plan or any other type of insurance plan in order to participate in the Health Care FSA or Dependent Care FSA.
- FSAs have a "USE IT OR LOSE IT" rule. You can incur expenses until the end of the plan year, and you have until your grace period* to submit claims for reimbursement. After the grace period, you will lose the remaining balance.
- Once you enroll in an FSA, you cannot make changes to the annual contribution unless you have a qualifying mid-year life event. You may not elect an amount less than what you have already spent year to date.
