

Kala Dickerson

Project Integration and Business Services Manager

Kala Dickerson is UCOR's Project Integration and Business Services Manager, overseeing the company's business and financial functions as well as the Chief Information Office. She previously served as Contract and Acquisition Services Manager, where she helped manage the ID/IQ End States Prime Contract and the supply chain.

Kala has more than 30 years of demonstrated leadership in government and commercial sectors. Prior to joining UCOR, she served the Department of Energy (DOE) Complex as the Vice President, Prime Contract and Project Integration, for CH2M HILL Plateau Remediation Company (CHPRC) at the Hanford site in Washington. She was key in navigating COVID-19 and Partial Stop Work Order impacts with the DOE Plateau Remediation Contract.

Prior to working at CHPRC, Kala was the Business Operations Associate Manager for Lockheed Martin Corporation, Information Systems and Global Solutions Civil, where she provided day-to-day management oversight of the business operations group supporting the Energy Technology Solutions Program. She was also the Director of Business Support Services for Columbia Energy and Environmental Services, Inc., a small woman-owned business, where she successfully negotiated a Mentor Protégé agreement with DOE's prime contractor, Washington River Protection Solutions.

In addition, Kala worked as the Small Business Program Manager for DOE's Pacific Northwest National Laboratory (PNNL). She was responsible for negotiating PNNL's annual small business goals, reporting requirements/metrics, and relationship management for this program both with DOE and PNNL acquisition and project management staff to ensure achievement of the goals. Kala has held a few other positions with business management experience spanning contract formation, administration, and negotiations to maximize profitability with consideration of risk, cash flow, schedule, fee, and intellectual property impacts in partnership with her clients.

Kala received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration from Washington State University, and a Master of Business Administration from Nova Southeastern University.
